Norton KDH celebrates 125 years

BY BOB DEMAREE

Norton King's Daughters' Health held a 125th anniversary celebration Thursday including a visit from Norton Healthcare Chief Executive Officer Russell Cox.

The event remembered the hospital's past — KDH was dedicated on Aug. 25, 1899, founded by a group of 12 women — and looked to the future with a proposed January 2025 integration of an advanced electronic medical record system.

The Madison hospital's anniversary comes more than two years after King's Daughters' Health officially joined Norton Health with a change of ownership in January of 2022.

Cox said it's "serendipity that Norton Healthcare and King's Daughters' Hospital were meant to be together" because of the similarities in how they began.

Drusilla Cravens, granddaughter of noted banker and financier James F.D. Lanier, purchased the Strader homestead on Presbyterian Avenue in Madison and bequeathed it for a new King's Daughters' Hospital in memory of her husband, Judge John R. Cravens, who had died March 26, 1899.

Cox told the story of Mary Norton, who in 1881 gave her home to organizers of a new hospital, so that it could be sold to fund the hospital named in memory of her husband, the Rev. John Norton, after he died Jan. 18, 1881. The John N. Norton Memorial Infirmary opened in 1886.

"Fortunately, that legacy of caring for others in the community, servant leadership, has stayed in our cultures," said Cox. "When we were talking about how we make our partnership more formal, I got asked the question a lot, 'Why? What is it about King's Daughters' that makes it seem like a great partnership?' And it was the culture of caring that existed for both Norton and King's Daughters'.

"You can't bring two organizations together that have different cultures because one will always dominate the other, but if the culture has enough commonality around serving others and around putting the patient first," it works, said Cox.

Norton King's Daughters' Health employees and board members gather for a picture at a 125th anniversary celebration event that was attended by Norton Healthcare CEO Russell Cox (center sport coat and pink shirt) on Thursday. Participants wore T-shirts printed with, "There are no limits to what our care can do," which is the mission of the hospital. There are more than 800 NKDH employees throughout the hospital's five county region — Jefferson, Switzerland and Ripley counties in Indiana, and Carroll and Trimble counties in Kentucky.

Carol Dozier, chief administrative officer for Norton KDH, said part of the decision for the change of ownership was technology that the Madison hospital could not achieve on its own, but could acquire through Norton.

The move to the electronic medical record system could not have been done without Norton, said Dozier.

Dozier said the system, called Epic, is the number one electronic medical system in the nation and will take effect at Norton KDH on Jan. 13 of next year. Currently, preparation is underway with training, comparing systems and workflows over the next few months.

The current portal will eventually go away, replaced by MyChart where the public will be able to access information. "They can look at all their personal medical information — test results, doctor's notes, schedule an appointment," said Cox, adding that those who have elderly parents, will be able to access their records to help manage their care and schedule appointments.

"It's also a time-saver for physicians," she said, noting the system will help doctors to better manage patient care, such as understanding the dosage of medicine the patient may need, or whether there may be allergies. "Last year in Epic over 250,000 adverse drug events were prevented. So, it really elevates patient safety, and accessibility to your information. A lot of people really want to know their information as opposed to waiting for the doctor's office to call."

Russell Cox, Norton Healthcare CEO, speaks during Thursday's 125th anniversary celebration of Norton King's Daughters' Health. Cox joined Norton Healthcare in Sept. 2000, as vice president for support services, and was involved in a meeting 20 years ago that eventually led to a partnership and change of ownership for the hospital to Norton Healthcare. Cox has been CEO since Jan. 1, 2017.

Madison basketball legend Briley dies at 83

BY BOB DEMAREE

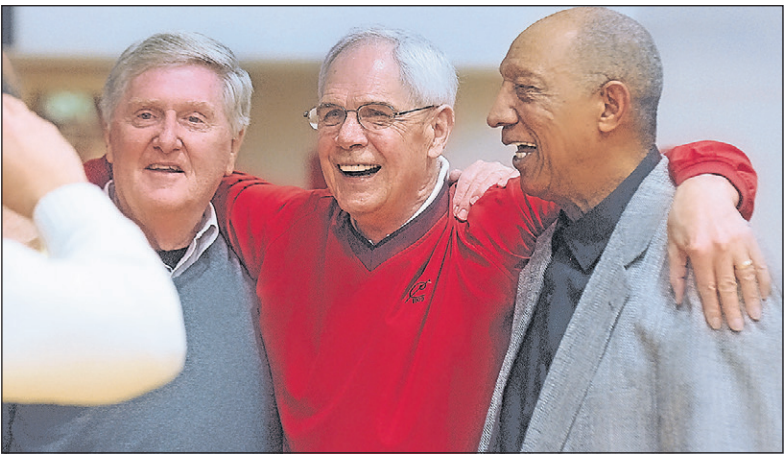

Madison basketball legend Harold "Buster" Briley — the all-time leading scorer of the Cubs — died Monday, Aug. 26, at the age of 83.

Briley, a 1960 graduate of Madison High School and Indiana All-Star, was a four-year starter for the Cubs, scoring 1,985 points in 97 games for an average of 20.4 points per game. During his four years, Madison posted an 81-16 record including an undefeated 1959-60 regular season, the first in Madison school history. The Cubs won four sectionals and three regionals, achieving three consecutive semistate appearances from 1958-1960.

"We went through some great years with Buster," said Harold Lakeman, who was a teammate during two of Briley's four seasons at Madison.

"He could flat shoot," said Lakeman, noting Briley achieved his Madison scoring record before the existence of the 3-point shot and could have scored even more points had that rule been implemented in his era.

Lakeman said Briley wouldn't have minded the existence of the 3-point shot when he played, and later in life joked, "Why not a 4-point line from center count!" because Briley sometimes shot from there. "He just let them fly, although not very often."

Deanna Martin Shelley, a 1962 Madison graduate, was a sophomore during Briley's senior year. She remembered watching him play ball from the girls cheer block. "He would just cross the center line and not go very far, and shoot it, then turn the other way without even looking to see if it went in."

Lakeman said his regret is that teams didn't track assists back then. He noted that when Briley was making all those baskets, "I'm the guy that got to pass to him" along with Larry Shingleton, a 1959 Indiana All-Star.

"Larry and Buster were the best combo in the state of Indiana," Lakeman said. "My job wasn't to score. It was just to get the ball to them."

Chelsea Jubilee's 158th to celebrate 50 years at Saluda Park

BY BOB DEMAREE

The tradition of the Chelsea Jubilee — billed as Indiana's oldest continuous festival — continues this Friday and Saturday for the 158th consecutive year.

This year's Jubilee has added significance in that it's the event's 50th anniversary at the Saluda Township Park.

For the first century, the Chelsea Jubilee moved to various locations with the inaugural event being sponsored by the Saluda Township Farmers Association in 1866. Over the years several different organizations put on the event but in 1965 the Chelsea Jubilee Park Association was formed. Eight years later in 1973, the park association made a down payment for six acres land where the Chelsea Jubilee is now held, and the next year the remainder was paid by the Saluda Township Trustee, turning that into the Saluda Township Park at 5860 State Road 62, Lexington, Indiana.

The association signed a 99-year lease for the first week in September. For 51 weeks a year, the park is under the township's control with the association having it for the weekend of the Chelsea Jubilee.

Eston Smith, the manager of the Chelsea Jubilee, said he has been involved with the Chelsea Jubilee for 60 years, first volunteering when he was 14 years and is still active at age 74.

Smith said over the last three years, the association has invested $7,000 in the park that includes installing underground wiring and new LED lights. "Every penny we make goes to the cost of next year's jubilee, or it gets invested back into the park," he said.

The event combines entertainment, children's games and food that makes it a gathering place for the community. "People seem to enjoy it very much," said Smith.

Clark sheriff pleads guilty to theft, misconduct, tax evasion, money laundering

JEFFERSONVILLE — Most of the charges A former southern Indiana sheriff has pleaded guilty to more than two dozen charges alleging that he spent millions of dollars in local funds on travel, gifts, automobiles and other personal expenses.

Former Clark County Sheriff Jamey Noel pleaded guilty Monday to 27 charges, including theft, official misconduct, tax evasion and money laundering. Noel's plea agreement calls for him to pay more than $3 million in restitution and serve 15 years in prison.

Under his plea deal, four counts of ghost employment alleging that Noel had his employees perform personal chores for him at his property would be dismissed. His jury trial was set to begin Nov. 6.

Special Judge Larry Medlock said Monday he was not opposed to Noel's plea agreement, but he needed more time to hear from victims of Noel's alleged crimes before accepting his guilty pleas.

"I want to hear from taxpayers that have been aggrieved by the actions of this individual," the judge said.

Noel, 53, is being held on a $1.5 million bond at the Scott County Jail. A telephone message seeking comment from Noel's attorney on his guilty pleas was not immediately returned.

Noel served two consecutive terms as Clark County's elected Republican sheriff, leaving office in 2022 in the Ohio River county that is just north of Louisville, Kentucky. He also previously served as chairman of the Clark County Republican Party.

Noel pleaded guilty to stem from his time as president and CEO of the Utica Township Volunteer Firefighters Association, which also does business as New Chapel Fire/EMS. The company landed multiple public contracts for fire and EMS service in Clark and Floyd counties during Noel's leadership. The association's board ended Noel's employment in January.

Noel and his family are accused of spending millions of dollars for personal purchases that included travel, gifts, clothing and vehicles, the News and Tribune reported. Medlock said in June that Noel had used the firefighter association's funds as a "personal piggy bank."

The Indiana State Police conducted dozens of searches that uncovered questionable payments for classic cars, college tuition and an aircraft.

Noel's wife, Misty Noel, and daughter, Kasey Noel, face separate charges of theft and tax evasion. They have both pleaded not guilty, and their jury trials are both scheduled for Oct. 28.

Noel's plea agreement calls for him to pay more than $2.87 million in restitution to the Utica Township Volunteer Firefighters Association; more than $61,000 to the sheriff's department; more than $173,000 to the Indiana Department of Revenue with his wife, Misty Noel; and more than $35,000 to the Indiana State Police for costs associated with the storage of evidence.

Noel would also pay a fine and costs to be determined by the court.

"I think it will be transformational in many ways," Cox added.

KDH held a board retreat at the Seelbach Hotel in downtown Louisville to explore options to ensure the hospital's future. "They wanted to talk to us about what might be possible" in the way of a partnership, said Cox. He noted that while KDH wasn't ready to make that move then, they could see the value of such a relationship in the future, Cox added.

"The vision of that board was to say the world is changing, we may need to have a partner, we may need to look at the world differently is amazingly accurate," Cox said. "I give them great credit because it didn't happen immediately but we stayed in contact and connected with each other, and where we could help we did, and it made a more formal partnership possible because there's trust."

Cox said it created "a strong servant leadership around what's best for the community."

"What a special day to celebrate 125 years of healthcare for this region," said Dozier, noting that NKDH's reach includes Jefferson, Switzerland and Ripley counties in Indiana, and Carroll and Trimble counties in Kentucky. "I look around at all of you, and what we have. We have a great facility, we have great equipment, great employees, excellent physicians. We have technology coming from Norton Healthcare that will be state of the art for electronic medical records.

"We have been blessed," she added. "I look around at hospitals around the country, especially rural hospitals. Some of them are closing. Some of them are reducing services, and Norton Healthcare says how can we grow, and how can we support this community and this hospital. It's been wonderful to get here to 125 years, and I am sure the women who founded this organization would be proud to see us standing here today.

Norton KDH Board Chair Darleen Connolly said, "The hospital has an amazing future because of our partnership with Norton. They bring strengths to us and they bring a lot of expertise. Because of our partnership with Norton and our dedicated employees, there is no limit to what our care can do."

The Precious Gift
One gift, above all others
God gives us to treasure.
One that knows no time, no place
And one gold cannot measure.

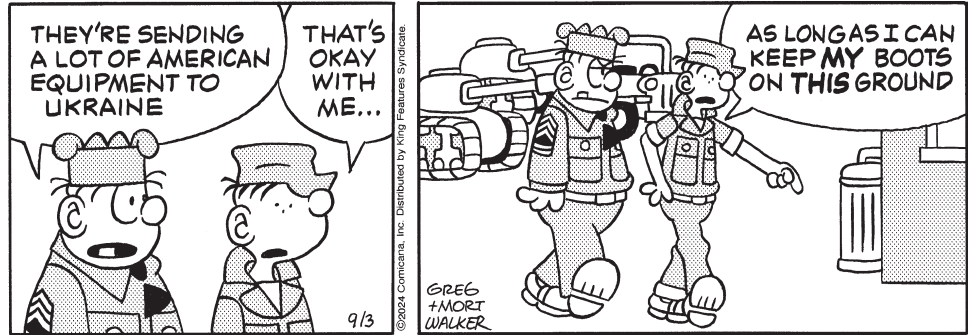

The precious, poignant, tender gift
Of Memory - that will keep
Our dears ones ever in our hearts,
Although God gives them sleep.

It brings back long remembered
Things: a song, a smile
And our world's a better place
Because
We had them for awhile!

Mote hears arguments in suit over demolition of Moody Park trailers

BY BOB DEMAREE

A court battle over the demolition and removal of several trailers on Moody Park Lane in downtown Madison continued Wednesday with a hearing presided over by Jefferson Circuit Court Judge D.J. Mote, who took the matter under review. The case stems from an order by city of Madison's Board of Public Works and Safety (BPWS) on March 20, 2023, ordering the demolition and removal of seven trailers after the city's building inspector deemed them unsafe and dangerous. The trailers are located on parcels at 938-940 Walnut Street at the 421 Mobile Home Park owned by James Cunningham. Shortly after, a lawsuit was filed by James and Gail Cunnham, who made the case that the demolition order by the BPWS is unenforceable as a matter of law, that it's unsupported by the evidence, exceeds its statutory bounds and improperly denies a reasonable opportunity to repair the mobile home properties. James Cunningham, owner of the trailer park, is owner of mobile homes at 401, 408 and 414 Moody Park Lane. Gail Cunningham is owner of mobile homes at 407, 413, 419 and 420 Moody Park Lane. Since then, trailers 408 and 419 have been demolished or removed. Indianapolis attorney Carl J. Becker argued that the demolition reached outside the bounds of the city's statutory authority because the Unsafe Building Law (UBL) does not apply to mobile homes. Becker said the city regulates "real" property (land and the structures attached) but not personal property upon the land which would include mobile homes. Prior to July 1, there was reference to "building or structure" but the UBL did not include "mobile homes" in the definition. However, that now is included because of legislation that took effect on that date. Becker contended that prior to the legislation taking effect it did not apply to manufactured or mobile homes. Joe Jenner, attorney for the city of Madison, said even though the UDL did not previously include "mobile home" specifically, it doesn't mean that the UDL did not apply to mobile homes or manufactured homes. Even though prior to the new legislation taking effect, the UDL did not define what constitutes a building or structure, Jenner said it doesn't mean the UDL did not apply to mobile or manufactured homes prior to July 1. Becker contended that the demolition order was sought before Cunningham was given the opportunity to repair or rehabilitate his mobile homes. Jenner said the order to demolish was given after inspection by the building inspector for the poor condition and unsafe nature of the mobile homes. Becker also sought to make a case that Gail Cunningham's trailers were given a demolition order without due process because the notices were sent to James Cunningham, her husband, and not her. However, Jenner noted that Gail Cunningham was aware of the matter because she attended BPWS meetings on March 6, 2023, and March 20, 2023. Madison Mayor Bob Courtney said the city is glad the hearing has taken place and the case is moving closer to a resolution. "Eliminating blight is a high priority of this administration. Maintaining unsafe and uninhabitable properties is unacceptable. Dilapidated and dangerous structures like this threaten the life, safety, and health of the citizens of Madison," Courtney said/ "Today's hearing was a first step toward holding the owners accountable for the condition of their property which is, frankly, long overdue."

Lakeman, a 1959 Madison graduate, said Don Wallis Jr. and Hank Bentz, both 1960 graduates, also assisted on many of Briley's points from passes they made to the Cub sharpshooter. "I would say he was natural. He got the ball and shot it, and he could rebound, too." Briley was also a strong free throw shooter, winning the team's Knoebel-Bird free throw award for the best percentage for three consecutive seasons. "If you fouled him, you could just about count them" as points, said Lakeman. During his high school career, Briley scored 20 points or more in 45 games of his 97 games and 30 or more in 24 games. He still holds the record for most points in a game by a freshman with 30 against Franklin. During the 1959-60 season, Briley scored 45 against Greensburg and 46 against Franklin. He was held under 10 points only 12 times in his four years with the Cubs. Lakeman said Briley's 20.4 ppg average over four years leads him to believe that no one will ever break Briley's 1,985 career points record. "It takes scoring a lot of points plus playing some games in the state tournament," which the Cubs routinely achieved in those years with three semistate appearances. Willie Humes (1964-67) ranks as the Cubs' second highest career scorer with 1,876 while his brother, Larry Humes (1959-62), is third with 1,864. After high school, Briley went to Evansville College to play for the Purple Aces basketball team, where he scored 1,335 career points and still ranks 18th all-time with an 18.2 ppg career scoring average that ranks seventh. In February of 1962, Briley made an 86-foot shot in a loss to Notre Dame, the longest shot ever made in Roberts Stadium, where the Purple Aces played their home games from 1956 until it closed in 2011. Briley was a teammate of Larry Humes at Evansville when the Purple Aces won the 1964 NCAA Division II national championship. The next year, after Briley had graduated but Humes was still on the team, the Purple Aces repeated as Division II national champion. Meanwhile, Shingleton was at the University of Cincinnati when the Bearcats won the NCAA Division I championship in both 1961 and 1962. "From 1956 to 1962, we had a lot of talented players," said Lakeman. After college, Briley pursued a career as an insurance salesman. In 1979, he ran for Evansville City Council, winning the first of three terms. Briley also had troubled years when he struggled with alcoholism, culminating with a train striking his car on railroad tracks as he managed to escape the car. He went on to become an Alcoholics Anonymous sponsor for 34 years. Briley's time at Madison was during one of the more successful periods for Cubs boys basketball when Julius "Bud" Ritter was coach. The Cubs had a 61-game regular season win streak that began on Jan. 27, 1959 with a 51-50 victory over Shelbyville and ended in a 69-66 overtime loss at Connersville in the third game of the 1962-63 season. Briley was a sixth grader in the mid-1950s attending class in the Central school system when Phil Cole was impressed see a young kid carrying a 100-pound sack of feed at Arnold Ryker's Feed Mill, according to an article in the Sept. 11, 1994 edition of The Evansville Courier. According to article, when Ryker said, "He's a good basketball player, too," it caught the attention of Cole, sports editor for The Madison Courier in the 1950s, who also coached the Small Stars basketball program for fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Cole took Briley to the basketball court outside Central High School to shoot a few baskets, and was amazed enough that a few days later he brought Ritter to watch Briley shoot and Ritter decided he wanted to find a way to move the Briley family to Madison. Gary O'Neal, Madison's Hall of Fame baseball coach who grew up near the Canaan area and went to Central High School, was two years younger than Briley. O'Neal was never a teammate of Briley, but played against him when Central played Madison in the semifinals of the 1960 sectional, a game the Cubs won 81-42. That was the last year for Central which the next year consolidated into Madison Consolidated High School, with O'Neal joining the Cubs basketball team for the 1960-61 season. O'Neal remembers that while Briley was a student at Evansville College, the Cubs played a regular season game at Evansville

Bosse in 1961 and Briley visited the team's locker room and gave a pep talk before introducing himself to the players. O'Neal remembers being honored that Briley remembered him from Central even though they'd never formally met.

"He fit right in with Mr. Ritter who was kind of a showman," said O'Neal. "I can still see Buster. He would make a big shot, and his arm would go up" and it would fire up the crowd. To be a Cub fan in the stands back in those days, Briley was somebody special.

"He was a legend for all us folks," said Lakeman. Ziemer Funeral Home East Chapel in Evansville is handling arrangements for Briely. A celebration of life will be announced at a later date. For additional details, see today's obituaries.

This year's Chelsea Jubilee begins Friday with the Indiana Country Kickers Line Dancers performing from 5-6 p.m. The opening ceremony is at 6:30 p.m. followed by the No Name Band from 7-10 p.m. On Saturday, activities begin with the antique tractor parade at noon. There will be corn hole on the west lot at 1 p.m. All afternoon, beginning at 12:30 p.m., there will be kids' games including the penny search, pedal pull, hay bale toss, water balloons and bubblegum contest. Another Chelsea tradition is the candy cannon that fires out candy for the children to gather. Smith said it's a Civil War Napoleon cannon that is loaded with candy and fired off at the basketball court using compressed air. After the cannon is fired, children are allowed to run and gather up the candy. The Back Porch band will perform from 5-6 p.m., which Smith said performs at no cost to the Chelsea Park Jubilee Association, but does accept donations to the Wounded Warriors Project so there will be collection buckets for donations. The final event of the festival will be the Crossfire band from 7-10 p.m. Booths will sell food throughout the festival including hamburgers, hot dogs, tacos, pork chops and pulled pork sandwiches. There will also be vendors selling art and crafts, candles and much more.

South Dearborn strikes early in 20-0 win over Madison

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Madison's defense played well enough to win, but the Cubs' nearly non-existent offense held the team back in Madison's first football loss of the season.

Madison finished with just 11 yards total offense and South Dearborn scored all of its points in the first quarter as the visiting Knights came away with a 20-0 win in football Friday at Cub Field.

The Cubs' defense forced two turnovers and other than one long 52-yard score, did everything it could to win. But with so many defenders forced to play on offense as well, it led to a long night under hot and humid conditions.

"We don't have guys that just play offensive line; when we put them on defense, then we jeopardize offense, and it's a double edged sword. So rob Peter to pay Paul," Madison coach Charles Benintende said.

"We either put them on defense and try and stop them, or put them on offense and try and score. 'So we knew it was going to be a battle and a fight with the line, so we tried to get them as much break as we can. You can see at the end, and they were just gassed and didn't have nothing left."

A week after Madison opened the season with a kickoff return for a touchdown in a win over Scottsburg, the Cubs fumbled the opening kickoff foreshadowing a rough first quarter.

South Dearborn (2-0) turned that fumble into a 12-yard touchdown throw from quarterback Conor Huff to receiver Wyatt Adams and Taytum Barker added the extra point for a quick 7-0 lead less than four minutes into the game.

It was the first of three touchdowns between Huff and Adams in a quick first-quarter.

David Campbell

South Dearborn's Landon Walton (44) tackles Madison's Peyton Stewart (2) during Friday's game at Cub Field. The 2-0 Knights won 20-0.

A Madison three-and-out on its first series led to another Huff to Adams score — this one for 52 yards — and another Barker kick led to a 14-0 lead. Just before the quarter break, the duo struck again, this time for 17 yards. Barker's kick was blocked but the Knights led 20-0.

Madison (1-1) finally shut down the Knights' passing attack but the damage had been done.

Unable to move the ball on offense, the Cubs crossed midfield only twice and fumbled it away on one of those trips.

"We knew they were going to play cover zero on the outside and give us everything they had in the inside and blitz. And we just couldn't get it going at all," Benintende said.

Madison had more negative plays than positives and finished with just 11 offensive yards, 42 through the air and minus-31 on the ground. Receiver James Schafer had two catches for 21 yards to lead the Cubs and was about the only bright spot.

South Dearborn, meanwhile, had 279 total yards but did not score after the first quarter. Adams finished with 11 catches for 142 yards and Huff completed 14-of-22 passes for 169 yards.

Despite the loss, Benintende was pleased with his team's effort, especially on a night when seemingly nothing went right.

"I told the kids that I'm more proud of them this week than I was last week with the win, because we gave up 20 points within the first five or six minutes of the game and then hung in there the rest of the game," the coach said.

Switzerland rolls past Gallatin for 2nd win of season

BY ADAM PIETRYKOWSKI

The trip from Switzerland County High School to Gallatin County High School is just 13 miles, but on Friday night the distance between their football their football programs seemed much wider than that as Switzerland rolled to a 55-6 route of Gallatin.

The win for Ryan Jesop's Pacers was courtesy of the same recipe that was so effective in Week 1, a stifling and aggressive defense, and a punishing run game.

"I was really proud of the physicality our guys played with tonight, our line set the tone on both sides and our skill players did a great job of finishing runs and tackles strong," Jesop said.

The game began with Gallatin receiving the ball, but a couple of false starts and a sack by Grayson Levell quickly forced the Wildcats off the field after just three plays. Following the punt, the Pacers took over at the Gallatin 29-yard line and went on to punch in a rushing touchdown on a 3-yard dive from Keaton Mosely in just four plays to take a 7-0 lead.

Later, the Pacers took over on offense at their own 11-yard line as the second quarter began and were in the end zone just 34 seconds later following an especially physical run by quarterback Alex Bailey, who bulldozed his way to a 65-yard touchdown.

Following that big play, the Pacer defense again shut down the Wildcat offense to get the ball back at their own 28-yard line. This time Switzerland needed only one play for wing Kolvin Beck to go 72 yards and putt the Pacers in front 21-0 with eight minutes left in the first half.

After Gallatin got the ball back, junior Ethan Weaver put on a one man show on defense, getting a tackle for loss and sack during the next series to force yet another punt from the Wildcats. This time a Bailey keeper led to a one-play, 69-yard scoring drive on a sprint around right end for his second 60-plus yard gallop of the first half.

The Pacers were in control 28-0 and the only drama left was whether there would be a running clock to start the second half.

Vandagriff tosses 3 TDs as UK earns lightning-shortened win

BY STEVE MCCLAIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEXINGTON, Ky. — Brock Vandagriff emerged from a two-hour-plus lightning delay to throw three touchdown passes in his Kentucky debut to lead a 31-0 opening-game shut-out of Southern Miss on Saturday night in a game that was called for good with 9:56 remaining in the third quarter after a second delay.

Lightning in the area delayed the scheduled 7:45 p.m. start to 10:05 p.m., and the Georgia transfer took charge to throw for 169 yards and two 12-yard scores to Bar-ion Brown in the first half and a five-yard score to Jordan Dingle in the third before the second lightning delay early Sunday morning.

A release stated that the termination was "by mutual agreement of the participating institutions as permitted by NCAA rules" and considered final and complete.

"(That was a) very strange situation there," Kentucky coach Mark Stoops said. "I've been here 12 year s and I've never been through the delays like that. I was proud of our team and coming out and playing relatively clean."

Tate Rodemaker threw for 126 yards for the Golden Eagles along with two interceptions, with one ending their best scoring chance when Kentucky's JQ Hardaway picked off a tipped pass in the end zone with 13:37 left in the first half.

Vandagriff, making his first collegiate start, completed passes to five different receivers, including Dane Key, who had three catches for 60 yards and North Texas transfer Ja'Mori Maclin, who had two catches for 66 yards.

Madison golfers score win at East to remain undefeated

BY THE COURIER STAFF
Madison girls golf had four players break 50 and the Cubs posted one of their best rounds of the season in a 187-195 win over Columbus East at Otter Creek Golf Course on Wednesday.

"It turned out to be a great night tonight. The ladies really responded after I challenged them yesterday for a ho-hum round at home," Madison coach Jake Shockley said. "Shooting 187 on the North course at Otter is a heck of a lot better than 195 at home."

"I'm pretty sure this is the first time that we've beaten East in a head-to-head since I've been coaching the last 10 years."

Emmi Dowell shot a 44 to claim medalist but she was followed closely by Claire Miller, who had a personal-best 46, Leigh Wilson's 48 and Izzie Perry's 49.

"It turned out to be a great night tonight. The ladies really responded after I challenged them yesterday for a ho-hum round at home. Shooting 187 on the North course at Otter is a heck of a lot better than 195 at home."

— Jake Shockley
Madison coach

Eliza Burnett was a close fifth with a 51.

In non-scoring rounds, Alexa Davis had a personal-best 58 and Tera Scharlau had a 60.

"Claire was huge for us tonight and she and Izzie were definite x-factors," Shockley said.

"We only had a one-stroke lead as the fours and fives were making their way in. I've been telling Claire that she can be a special player, and she's starting to believe it. She'll have her ups and downs, but the potential is there. If we can keep Izzie and Claire consistent, then we have a very good team."

"Aleigh has just been so consistent for us, I love the way she just calmly goes around the course and handles business," Shockley added. "She kind of gets lost in the shuffle behind Emmi sometimes, but she's our rock."

Madison plays at Floyd Central on Tuesday and is at Scottsburg next Thursday.

With Burrow back, Bengals expect to improve record

CINCINNATI BENGALS (9-8) EXPECTATIONS: With a season-ending injury to quarterback Joe Burrow last November, the Bengals were fortunate to finish a game over .500, albeit in last place in the AFC North.

Burrow's surgically repaired right wrist is OK now, and for at least one more season he'll have receivers Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins together as his primary playmakers.

Chase ended his contract "hold-in" and practiced for the first time this summer on Sunday, Aug. 25, two weeks before Cincinnati opens the season against the New England Patriots.

New running back Zack Moss had the best season of his career last season at Indianapolis (794 yards, five TDs), and tight end Mike Gesicki jumped from New England as a proven pass-catcher.

As Burrow goes, so go the Bengals, so if the offensive line can keep his uniform clean, the 2024 season will be much better.

The Bengals hope some new additions on the defensive line and another year of experience for some young defensive backs will help lessen the frequency of explosive plays allowed by the unit last season.

NEW FACES: Offensive coordinator Dan Pitcher, RB Zack Moss, TE Mike Gesicki, OT Trent Brown, WR Jermaine Burton (rookie), OT Amarius Mims (rookie), DT Sheldon Rankins, DT Kris Jenkins (rookie), S Vonn Bell, S Geno Stone.

KEY LOSSES: Offensive coordinator Brian Callahan, WR Tyler Boyd, OT Jonah Williams, RB Joe Mixon, TE Irv Smith Jr., S Nick Scott, CB Chidobe Awuzie, DT D.J. Reader.

STRENGTHS: When healthy, Burrow is one of the most creative, accurate quarterbacks in the NFL and he throws to Chase, one of the league's most versatile and dynamic playmakers.

Higgins, who is playing with the franchise tag and likely will be gone after the season, gives Burrow another playmaker with whom the quarterback is completely comfortable.

The Bengals are counting on newcomer Moss to step in at running back to eat up some yards and help protect Burrow.

The No. 3 receiver position is wide open, with a number of possibilities there.

The new tight end, Gesicki, has three 50-catch NFL seasons.

WEAKNESSES: Cincinnati's defense last season gave up way too many explosive plays, those that went for at least 20 yards in the air or 15 on the ground.

They allowed those more often than any team in the NFL.

The Bengals offensive line was pushed around, and the run defense was among the worst in the league.

Having lost their main run-stopper, D.J. Reader, to free agency, Cincinnati signed free agent DT Sheldon Rankins and drafted DTs Kris Jenkins from Michigan and McKinley Jackson from Texas A&M.

They added S Geno Stone from Baltimore and brought back S Vonn Bell.

The hope is 2022 first-round draft pick Dax Hill can lock down a cornerback spot after moving from safety.

CAMP DEVELOPMENT: The biggest question coming into camp was whether Burrow can bring back the magic to the Bengals offense after rehabbing his surgically repaired right wrist.

The quarterback said he took his time with the rehab this time after adverse results from trying to come back too quickly from previous injuries.

Burrow played the first series of the initial preseason game, completing 5 of 7 passes for 51 yards, including a 10-yard TD pass to Higgins.

FANTASY PLAYER TO WATCH: At 24, Chase is well-established as one of the league's premier wide-outs.

He had 1,000 receiving yards in each of his first three seasons.

He finished 2023 with 1,216 yards and seven TDs, and that was playing the final nine games with backup quarterback Jake Browning after Burrow went down.

With a healthy Burrow, Chase should be poised for a huge year.

Colts counting on Richardson-Taylor to lead return to playoffs

INDIANAPOLIS COLTS (9-8) EXPECTATIONS: The Colts have heard all about the streaks. Yes, they've missed the playoffs each of the past three years.

They haven't won a division crown since 2014 and haven't won a season opener since 2013.

So this year, Indy wants to silence its critics.

To do that, second-year coach Shane Steichen needs second-year quarterback Anthony Richardson to deliver in two key areas — staying healthy and throwing consistently well enough to win.

Richardson should have more help this season with all five starting offensive linemen back, 2021 NFL rushing champ Jonathan Taylor happy and healthy and possibly the Colts' strongest receiving groups in years.

Defensively, not much has changed.

The Colts are deep along the defensive line and are experienced in the front seven.

But to change directions and return to the playoffs, Indy needs its young secondary to grow up quickly this season.

NEW FACES: DT Rae-kwon Davis, QB Joe Flacco, DE Laiatu Latu, WR Adonai Mitchell, OL Matt Goncalves, OL Tanor Bortolini, WR-RS Anthony Gould.

KEY LOSSES: QB Gardner Minshew, RB Zack Moss, WR Isaiah McKenzie, DE Samson Ebukam (torn Achilles tendon).

STRENGTHS: Richardson and Taylor only took two snaps together in 2023.

This season, they form a potentially dynamic rushing duo capable of creating nightmares for opponents and becoming the cornerstone of Indy's offense.

Add Michael Pittman Jr., one of the NFL's toughest receivers, to a mix that includes a motivated Mitchell, speedy Josh Downs and third-year receiver Alec Pierce and the possibilities seem endless.

The Colts started training camp believing this would be their deepest defensive line rotation in years, too — until Ebu-kam's injury.

But his absence will likely give Latu more playing time.

WEAKNESSES: The most glaring problem last season was the young, injury-depleted secondary. GM Chris Ballard has not added a veteran through free agency or a trade yet, perhaps counting on the development of second-year CBs JuJu Brents and Jaylon Jones and the return of injured CB Dallis Flowers to fill the gaps. Indy also needs to settle on a starting free safety and would like to see one of last year's five tight ends emerge as a go-to option.

CAMP DEVELOPMENTS: The pass-rushing skills that made Latu such a problem the past two seasons at UCLA, and the No. 15 overall draft pick in April, appear well-suited for his pro career.

But Latu must also demonstrate he's more than a pass-rushing specialist by showing he's equally strong playing the run.

The other significant development is the influence Flacco has had on Richardson, who has frequently praised Flacco for his assistance in team meetings and helping him read defenses more quickly.

FANTASY PLAYER TO WATCH: Taylor. After two injury-filled seasons and an ugly contract dispute, Taylor looks and sounds more like the guy who rushed for nearly 3,000 yards and 29 TDs in his first two seasons rather than the guy who had 1,602 yards rushing and 11 TDs over the past two. Couple his ability to catch out of the backfield with the dual threat of Richardson and Taylor seems primed for a big rebound in 2024.

BETMGM S PORTSBOOK

Over/under wins: 8 1/2.

Lawton, Rourke carry IU to victory over Florida International

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BLOOMINGTON — Ty Son Lawton and Kurtis Rourke made quite a first impression in their Indiana debuts.

So did new coach Curt Cignetti.

Lawson scored two touchdowns in the first half Saturday, Rourke threw for another score and took the Hoosiers on a time-consuming third-quarter scoring drive to help Indiana pull away from Florida International 31-7, making Cignetti the first Indiana coach to win his debut since 2007. He wasn't exactly celebrating.

"There's a lot of things we're trying to change here. Another thing we're tr "ying to change in tradition is we've got to keep the people in the seats after halftime," said Cignetti, whose name appeared on a T-shirt handed out to the student section with a logo similar to Marlboro cigarettes.

The Hoosiers dominated their season opener on paper — outgaining the Panthers 414-182 and 234-53 on the ground while forcing two turnovers. And with Lawton and Rourke leading the way and Elijah Green closing it out with a 51-yard TD run with 1:06 to play, Indiana led wire to wire with a rushing total that was higher than any game last season.

"We need to create a Power Four environment in the stadium. But we've got to play better, too."

It wasn't all bad, though. The Hoosiers dominated their season opener on paper — outgaining the Panthers 414-182 and 234-53 on the ground while forcing two turnovers. And with Lawton and Rourke leading the way and Elijah Green closing it out with a 51-yard TD run with 1:06 to play, Indiana led wire to wire with a rushing total that was higher than any game last season.

"There were some nice creases, some nice cuts, nice chunks, and now we've got to take the next step with a little bit better down-field blocking or breaking a tackle here and there," Cignetti said.

Lawson, who followed Cignetti from James Madison to Indiana, carried 16 times for 74 yards. Rourke, a transfer from Ohio where he was the 2022 Mid-American Conference Offensive Player of the Year, went 15 of 24 with 180 yards.

But Cignetti, who has never had a losing season in 13 seasons as a head coach, certainly let his team know where it needed to make improvements after committing nine penalties.

"I think when you look around college football, you're seeing that in the openers right now," he said. "It's almost like they're teachable moments."

The Panthers (0-1) have lost five straight and eight of their last nine dating to last season, falling to 0-13 all-time against Big Ten schools.

Keyone Jenkins completed 20 of 29 passes for 129 yards with one interception and hooked up with Rocky Beers for a 7-yard TD pass in the final minute of the first half for Florida International's only score. Beers left the game with a hamstring injury after the score and was ruled out of the game in the second half.

"I thought Indiana did some good things, I also thought that we shot ourselves in the foot a few times," Panthers coach

Mike MacIntyre said. "We didn't capitalize on some opportunities we had."

THE TAKEAWAY
Florida International: The Panthers were simply overmatched, even against an opponent that had a complete offseason overhaul.

Indiana: With 54 new players on the roster, there were plenty of questions about whether the Hoosiers would look in sync. They did. The next goal for Indiana: Showing it can repeat such a dominant effort — on a short week — before the schedule gets increasingly tougher.

DELAY OF GAME
Florida International's troubles started well before kickoff — with a late arrival at Memorial Stadium. One of the team's four charter buses broke down about 20 minutes from the stadium and they made it less than two hours before the scheduled 3:30 p.m. kickoff.

Fever beat Wings 100-93 to climb about .500 mark

BY SCHUYLER DIXON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

ARLINGTON, Texas — Caitlin Clark had 28 points and 12 assists and the Indiana Fever overcame a record-tying nine 3-pointers from Arike Ogunbowale in a 100-93 victory over the Dallas Wings on Sunday.

Kelsey Mitchell scored 36 points, including a 3 that gave the Fever a four-point lead with 1:58 remaining in a meeting of teams that entered with matching three-game winning streaks.

Ogunbowale finished 9 of 16 from long range — beating her previous career best of seven 3s — and scored 34 points. The All-Star Game MVP missed two attempts at a record 10th 3-pointer, including one with the Wings trailing by six in the final minute.

Ogunbowale, who tied a career high with eight rebounds, matched the league record for 3s held by Mitchell (2019) and Seattle's Jewell Loyd (2023).

"I salute people like Arike because off the court, we're really great friends," Mitchell said. "We tend to work out and train together in the offseason. I wasn't expecting any other way coming from a person like that."

Clark and Mitchell hit five 3s apiece, combining to go 10 of 18 as the Fever shot 50% from long range and 53% overall.

"When you have two guards that are both making plays, it puts the other team in the tough position of what to take away, who to put on who," Clark said.

"We're definitely shooting it well. We're playing off each other well. We're looking for each other, and we're getting downhill, too. I think it's been a good balance of everything."

Clark was coming off a career-high 31 points in a win over fellow rookie of the year contender Angel Reese and the Chicago Sky. She set a WNBA record with 19 assists in her first regular-season visit to Texas in the game before the Olympic break, a 101-93 Indiana loss when the Fever were on the edge of the playoff picture.

Now, Indiana (17-16) is above .500 for the first time with Clark and solidly in the playoff mix while the Wings (9-23) are still hoping to recover from a slow start triggered by several key injuries.

Dallas, which won its first playoff series last year, the shortened game, the Wildcat offense got plays off quicker than last year when they ranked last in FBS at 54.9 plays per contest. Hamdan's offense ran 42 plays before the game was called.

THE TAKEAWAY
Southern Miss: The Golden Eagles could not muster any kind of a running attack, gaining a net five yards on 12 carries, including two sacks of Rodemaker.

They finished with just 131 yards on offense, 63 coming on passes of 34 yards to Kyirin Heath and 29 yards to Dannis Jackson.

Kentucky: Outside of allowing three third-down conversions on one drive, the Wildcat defense was stout. They had seven tackles for loss for 22 yards.

Linebacker Jamon Dumas-Johnson, another Georgia transfer, had an interception on Southern Mississippi's opening drive. Saturday's shutout was the second in coach Mark Stoops' tenure.

UP NEXT
Kentucky will open Southeastern Conference play next Saturday at home against South Carolina.

is two games out of the final postseason spot with eight remaining.

Gallatin stemmed that discussion by capitalizing on their only scoring drive of the evening, highlighted by a 39-yard reception that moved the ball inside the 5-yard line before the score made it 28-6 at halftime.

The Pacers established momentum again quickly in the second half, scoring on a 52-yard touchdown scamper by Beck immediately after the opening kick return for a 35-6 lead.

The play took away what air was left in Gallatin's sails and the Pacers continued to pour it on with an 8-yard touchdown run by Keaton Mosely, a 2-yard touchdown plunge from Bailey, and another 2-yard touchdown sneak by Aiden Mosely.

The final 55-6 score reflected the dominance the Pacers showed in the contest as the Swiss won their fourth straight over their Ohio River border rivals dating back to a 40-6 loss at Warsaw, Kentucky, in 2017.

The Pacers are now 6-2 all time against the Wildcats.

Switzerland County (2-0) will travel to Trimble County (1-1) next Friday night in Bedford, Kentucky. The Raiders are 0-2 this season and

The Fever are 6-1 since the Olympic break with three of those victories on the road. The reward is six consecutive home games starting Wednesday against the last-place Los Angeles Sparks before the regular-season finale at Washington.

“They’ve laid it out there. We just keep talking about emptying our tank,” Indiana coach Christie Sides said.

“The confidence that they’re playing with, I’m proud of the road games. The road games have been tough. We just keep talking about momentum, keeping our foot on the gas.”

After making her eighth

3-pointer in the third quarter, Ogunbowale was called for a foul for not giving Kelsey Mitchell a landing area on a 3.

The Wings challenged, and lost, which led to Ogunbowale getting a technical foul.

The Fever scored five points on that possession, cutting their deficit to 67-64 after Dallas had taken its biggest lead at 64-55 less than two minutes earlier.

Mitchell added two free throws after her crucial 3 as the Fever scored eight consecutive points for a 99-91 lead with 39 seconds remaining.

Satou Sabally scored 25 points, and Natasha Howard had 18 points and nine assists for the Wings. NaLyssa Smith had 14 points and eight rebounds for Indiana.

“They fought, they didn’t give up. They showed determination and grit, and we held it where we needed to hold it and I’m super proud of them. We’ve come a long way.”

Madison hits the road for the first time this season when it travels to Class A No. 4 Providence next Friday. The Pioneers (2-0) are coming off a 13-2 win over Christian Academy of Tennessee in their season opener and a 28-14 win over Louisville Holy Cross last Friday. South Dearborn travels to Batesville next week for its Eastern Indiana Conference opener.
